Jack Benny dies after cancer fight

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) -Jack Benny, the makebelieve miser whose deadpan humor broke up audiences from vaudeville days into the age of television, is dead of cancer of the pancreas. He was 80.

His wife of 47 years was at his bedside when he died at his home late Thursday night.

Benny's long-time manager, Irving Fein, said the comedian had been kept under heavy sedation because of severe pain. Dr. Rex Kennamer, Benny's personal physician, said the cancer was inoperable, according to Fein.

Stomach pains troubled Benny recently and discomfort forced him to cut short his last public appearance earlier this month. But tests did not disclose the cancer until it showed up on X rays last Friday, Fein said.

The manager said exploratory surgery was vetoed by doctors because of the entertainer's advanced age.

In addition to Benny's wife, other family members were present when he died. Mrs. Benny, the former Sadie Marks, is popularly known as Mary Livingstone, the name she took when she joined Benny on stage. The couple adopted one daughter, Joan.

Visitor to Benny's bedside on his last day included California Gov Ronald Washington C.H. City Manager Dan Wolford said today the railroad crossing situation is expected to be aired at the regular semi-monthly meeting of Washington C.H. City Council at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the City Office Building.

Wolford said in certain cases, such as the W. Court Street crossing, the city has appealed to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to speed action on necessary repairs.

The city manager and Council member Joseph O'Brien, himself a retired railroader, have been busy negotiating with the three railroad companies for repairs. . . According to Wolford, the city has received promises and committments for repairs from the railroad companies.

How soon the repair projects will begin is another question — perhaps one that will be answered at Monday night's Council meeting.

There is little hope that it will be different in 1975. Oil might cease to be a political weapon if the Arab-Israeli dispute is solved peacefully. But the price of oil will remain an issue unless the industrialized world finds a substitute for it. These are the melancholy conclusions of administration experts at year end. They all agree on the obvious: that the Middle East is a dangerous and volatile place. But, in line with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's wishes, they refuse to be pessimistic about the future.

The question boils down to this: will there be another war in the Middle East in 1975? If the answer is "yes," then there is a strong possibility of another oil embargo, possibly on a larger scale than in 1973.

Any future embargo could be larger because Iran might join the Arabs in withholding oil. This would be a heavy blow for Western Europe and Japan, which are dependent to a large extent on Iran's oil.

U.S. officials are reluctant to talk about the Mideast's future and they refer to Kissinger's statement at a Dec. 3 press conference that "this phase of Middle East diplomacy should be with a minimum of public declarations.

There is some suspicion that this plea for quiet diplomacy really means that there is nothing to be said because Kissinger's efforts have produced no dramatic long-term progress, though they may have prevented another war late this fall.

charges of murder and one of rape were filed against a 34-year-old laborer today in the "cold-blooded execution" of four children and the strangulation of their mother.

Police said the murderer may have interrupted Mrs. Aliff and the children as they ate lunch. County Medical Examiner John P. Bing said they died about 11:30 a.m.

Overtime parking tickets have long presented many motorists with a pesky problem, but in the mountains of Appalachia there has arisen a champion who hopes to change things.

He's H. Ray Evans and he's battling the forces of City Hall.

A balding, bespectacled man of 33. Evans doesn't look much like the traditional epic hero. But he does have impressive credentials. He has 48 count 'em, 48 - parking tickets.

Presented recently with a $215 bill from the city Finance Department, Evans decided the dun was one Christmas gift he could do without.

Evans spent two hours in municipal court here last week. He told the judge the tickets should be dismissed. He also alleged that the city uses a double standard in its collection procedures, letting out-of-state drivers off the hook while putting the screws to easy-to-reach locals. Charles Doorill, an attorney for Citizens for Responsive Government, is supporting Evans as a friend of the court. Doorill appeared last week and told the court that city ordinances discriminate against uniformly hometown drivers Evans also contended the belated billing, which included tickets as much as a year old, was unfair. He added that he has owned six cars during the past year and that many of the tickets were issued while the vehicles were being used by friends, thereby relieving him of responsibility.

One of every 20 Ohioans on welfare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Almost one of every 20 Ohioans is on welfare, state officials say, and all indications are that the percentage will increase.

County welfare departments say they've been swamped with applicants for food stamps and emergency assistance as Ohioans face continued inflation, increased layoffs and the exhaustion of their unemployment compensation benefits.

There were 516,000 people on the state's welfare roles at the end of November, said Richard Lightner. spokesman for the Ohio Department of Public Welfare.

Ohio's population is estimated at 10.7 million by the state Department of Economic and Community Develop-

At the end of November 1973, there were 495,000 people on welfare, Lightner said. That is an increase of 4.2 per cent in one year.

Lightner said the welfare department utilizes Aid to Dependent Children program statistics, which must be reported weekly by each county welfare office, as a "sort of barometer that gives us an indication of what's going on.

"Right now we're averaging 4,400 (ADC claims) a month being added to the roles," he said. During fiscal year 1974, ending last June 30, the average monthly increase was 542, he said. The

present average is eight times last year's figure.

The Welfare Department has a twoyear $638.7 million budget, 54 per cent of which is federal money, Lightner

"When the legislature appropriated the money, it was based on a 2,200 case load increase per month," Lightner said, "not the 4,400 we're having." However, he said, the funds budgeted for 1974 were not used and can be applied to this year's increases.

"The money is available," he said, "whether it is large enough is the question.'

In Hancock County, as in many Ohio counties, applicants for welfare assistance programs.

Hancock County Welfare Director Janet Myers said the office's work load has tripled for food stamps and increased by one-third in the emergency

"What goes on in Hancock County is true across the board in most counties, particularly in the larger urban counties," Lightner said.

Lightner said the welfare department is "having problems in keeping up the supply of forms which the counties use.

Many counties have run out of ADC forms, and the backlog for food stamp processing is a month to six weeks, he

State and national crime skyrockets

By The Associated Press

Serious crime in Ohio's major cities continued an upward trend during the first nine months of 1974, rising an average of 13 per cent, according to FBI statistics released today.

Across the nation, in cities of more than 100,000 population, crime rose 16 per cent, the largest increase in six years. By comparison, crime rose one per cent during the first nine months of last year, the FBI said.

'The continuing increase in crime requires an intensification of our efforts to identify the causes, improve crime prevention and insure swift prosecution," said outgoing Atty. Gen.

William B. Saxbe. The latest figures are based on crime statistics furnished by city, county and state law enforcement agencies. The eight Ohio cities surveyed were Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Parma, Toledo and Young-

Toledo experienced the greatest increase in offenses reported from January through September 1974 compared to the previous year with 21,975, incidents, an increase of 26 per

Columbus saw a 22 per cent rise while Cleveland and Akron both showed crime increases of 19 per cent. In Canton, and Youngstown, the index was up by 9 per cent and in Cincinnati

Only Parma with a population slightly over 100,000 showed a decline in crime, by 2 per cent.

In the first nine months of 1974, there were 1,910 offenses known to Parma area law enforcement agencies compared to 1,953 in 1973. However, burglary, breaking or entering and motor vehicle theft were rising.

The number of robberies in Parma dropped from 31 in 1973 to 19 this past September, a 32 per cent decrease.

Aggravated assault rose by 36 per cent in Cleveland. Burglary and breaking or entering increased by 34 per cent while larceny theft was up by per cent.

Other major increases were: -Murder and non-negligent manslaughter up by 126 per cent in Akron with a rise of 15 to 34 deaths. -A 28 per cent increase in burglary, breaking or entering in Canton, from

987 to 1,268 incidents. -Larceny theft rose 33 per cent in Columbus

-A 32 per cent jump in larceny theft in Toledo.

FBI figures show that the national crime rate rose 16 per cent in the first nine months of 1974, the largest increase for the period in six years.

The crime rate in smaller cities showed the largest increase.

The figures released today reflect an 8 per cent increase in the violent crimes of murder, rape, robbery and assault. The property crimes of burglary, larceny and vehicle theft jumped 17 per

The new report, based on statistics supplied by local and state law enforcement agencies across the country, indicated that the upward surge that began in the last three months of 1973 has continued

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said the continuing crime increase "requires an intensification of our efforts to identify the causes, improve crime prevention and insure swift protection.

Crime rose only 1 per cent during the same period a year ago.

Then the spiral began, with the 5 per cent increase recorded for the last quarter of 1973 and a 15 per cent increase in the first quarter of 1974. The six-month figures for this year also showed a 16 per cent increase, as do the nine-month figures.

NEW YORK (AP) - Continued recession prospects halted a two-day rally in the stock market today and left prices slightly lower in quiet trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 1.56 at 603.18. Losers outnumbered gainers by a 5-4 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

As trading began, the government reported that its index of leading economic indicators slipped 1.5 per cent in November for its fourth straight monthly crop. The index is designed to foreshadow developing economic

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index lost .20 to 59.31. The market also had to contend with other depressants. State police said discovery of the bodies Thursday night surprised them because only 25 minutes before the surrender — with 14 shotgun-armed state policemen surrounding the house police had talked by telephone with all three hostages.

Anthony Vicari, commander of the Dunes Park state police post, said officers had also talked with Mosley. "All during the conversations, he said he would not harm the hostages," Vicari said.

Vicari also said the policemen, who were at least 100 yards away, had heard no shots and did not fire their guns at any point.

Jim Smith, Gov. Otis R. Bowen's executive assistant in charge of corrections, said Mosley walked out of the Napierela home at 10:10 p.m. and dropped two guns — a pistol and a rifle - as he surrendered.

Jesus Tempted by the Devil

And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred. - Matthew IV: 2

After Jesus, alone, had fasted for forty days and nights in the wilderness, he was tired and hungry. It was then that Satan appeared before him and mocked: If thou be the Son of God, change these stones into bread. Jesus reprimanded him, saying: Man doth not live by bread alone ...but by the word of God. Then the devil led him to the pinnacle of a temple and challenged Jesus to jump, scathingly arguing that "of course" God's angels would protect him. Again Jesus refused. Undaunted, Satan offered him the entire universe if Jesus would but fall to his knees and worship him. Angered, Jesus banished him, saying "... it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and only him shalt thou serve." Then the devil left and angels came to minister to him.

Vietnam about some of the cases The U.S. embassy in Saigon says the Communists have been confronted with "conclusive" indications that they have information on 87 individuals. This is all the more important because the systematic hunt for missing Americans was suspended a year ago and negotiations among members of the joint military team have also stopped. No great optimism is warranted, but the latest development does provide relatives and friends of the missing with fresh grounds for hope.

The difficulty is that I had forgotten how bad cocktail parties are, so I feel like a prize dope. In our married life, my wife and I have thrown one cocktail party to celebrate my first book. It was quite an event: Most people seemed to want martinis, and I had been raised by my father to believe that nobody in his right senses would mix wine with spirits. I rose to the occasion-nobly, as it turned out - bought some gin and vermouth, and served pitchers of martinis which had the guests stacked like cordwood in three hours. amusement; the problem was that no one had told me how to mix martinis, so I simply put in enough vermouth to kill the taste of the ice. Later I was accused of trying to get everybody "stoned" (in the old sense of the word), but I was innocent.

Since that time, even when we were on the Washington circuit, we have avoided cocktail parties like the plague. Indeed, some years ago I invented a game down on Martha's Vineyard (which in July and August is a permanent floating cocktail party). We would accept invitations, not show and then, later, congratulate the hostess for her "wonderful hospitality." We got to about 18 wins one summer before we were caught and that was a freak situation in which a relative was there, without my knowledge, and the hostess launched a full-court press to find us. Normally, nobody has the slightest notion of who

In short, the cocktail party is a form institutionalized anti-social behavior. At one fell swoop a lazy hostess cleans up a year's social obligations. Our substitute has been, for almost 28 years, to have a couple for dinner. There you get a chance to engage in intelligent conversation, get some serious ballast aboard to counter any alcohol, and in general enjoy a civilized environment.

Unfortunately last night we got trapped: The reception was held by an old political friend, and I didn't feel that I could call up at the last minute and say, "Sorry about tonight. I just broke my wrist." So, wearing spiritual mourning, so to speak, off we went to one of those stand-up monstrosities with about 175 people jogging each other's elbows. The spirit of the evening can best be conveyed by the remark someone made to my wife. She had a major back fusion a decade ago and can not stand up indefinitely. Engaged in amiable conversation, she suggested that it would be a good idea to sit down (there were some undertaker's chairs along the wall). The man she was talking to blissfully replied, "No, I don't like to sit down at these affairs. You are liable to get stuck in conversation."

There was, in fact, a conspiracy against conversation. To make sure that nobody would get trapped in conversation with anybody else, the host had laid on a hi-fi, playing what I suspect to be Australian aboriginal music at 90 decibels. Later, I confess, I regretted I hadn't polished off more Chivas: That music gave me a headache worse than any hangover in memory. I thought the top was coming off my head but - since my wife does not like to drive at night - I sadly persevered in my abstinence. (For the record, ginger ale does not do much for a headache.)

So here I am at 2 a.m., still with a headache ( and nothing to show for it), longing to reinstitute the death penalty for the offense of throwing cocktail parties. As I said, I am a bit unnerved at the prospect of trying to beat my wife. Maybe I can find those cats and give them a loving boot, but then they never throw a stand-up party. I guess I'll just settle for an aspirin. And no Christmas "parties."

French divorces circumvent law

PARIS (AP) - Getting a divorce in France can be an elaborately orchestrated farce in which petitioner, lawyers and even the judge collaborate to circumvent a civil code instituted by Napoleon 171 years ago.

Under the code, the judge is required to formally pronounce one of the parties guilty before granting a divorce. The concept of guilty and innocent in the breakup of a marriage was a concession to the Roman Catholic Church and was meant to discourage divorce.

But nowadays it often leads only to sordid play-acting by all concerned in a divorce case. The law is widely felt to have become outmoded, just like the legislation on abortion which is now being modernized.

The government is drafting more liberal legislation permitting divorce by mutual consent and for other reasons long accepted in the United States and other Western countries. There has been no outcry from conservative forces yet, but the project may run into heavy flak when it reaches the National Assembly in the

Dear ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

He wants Abby

to choose his wife DEAR ABBY: I have a big decision to make and I need your help. My wife died 14 moths ago. She was 41, and I am 39. We never had any children as she was never strong enough.

Two women came into my life and both are pressing for marriage. One is a fine lady who could give me an easy life. By that I mean a place in society, a beautiful home and a very, very secure income. I would never have to worry about money with this lady. She is a widow who says she is 51, and she looks it-and more. She can't give me a very exciting lovelife, however, as she is quite dried up and not a beauty by any

The other woman has nothing to offer except herself. An exciting lovelife would be assured with this one. She is very good to look at, and is only 28.

If I knew I would live to be a ripe old age, I'd marry the widow, but if I could be sure I would die in 10 to 15 years from now I would marry the younger

Please don't leave this decision up to me. One day I think one way and the next day I change my mind. Thank you. CAN'T DECIDE

DEAR CAN'T: If you think I am going to choose you wife for you, you're mistaken. That's a choice you'll have to make yourself. Nobody knows how long he'll live, but it's wise to live as though there will be a tomorrow-because there usually is.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think I am out of my mind, but I have always had the feeling that they gave me the wrong baby when I left the hospital.

The "baby" is now 15 years old and I can't get the notion out of my head.

I have the baby's little footprints on the certificate of birth, and I know footprints don't change, so I wonder if you would think I was crazy if I asked my daughter to step in some ink and make another footprint to compare to the one on her certificate?

Thank you for not laughing WRONG BABY MAYBE

DEAR WRONG: If it will make you feel better, go ahead. But be warned: How will you feel and what will you do if the footprints do NOT match? DEAR ABBY: My husband had a very bad heart attack a month ago. We live in the country and there wasn't an ambulance available, so I drove him 52 miles to the hospital. Need I tell you what an ordeal that was?

I stayed with my husband for three hours, then the doctor told me he was out of danger so I should go home and get some rest, so I went home.

In the meantime I had phoned my daughter and son to tell them about eir father. When my the hospital and found that I had gone home, she called and raised the roof, saying I should have stayed at the hospital with her father. Abby, she has brought this up several times since, and it bothers me.

I love my husband dearly and prayed for his recovery night and day, but my daughter keeps trying to make me feel

Do you think I neglected my husband?

DEAR HURT: You took the doctor's advice, which I think was very wise. Your daughter can't make you feel guilty without your cooperation. You KNOW you didn't neglect your husband, so tune your daughter out, and don't feel hurt.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to Mrs. M.H., you write, "What you are saying is that the secret of getting your children to listen to you is to listen to THEM."

Abby, I wonder how many people realize that there is a right NOT to listen. The late Willian Ernest Hocking wrote, "The speaker has no right to compel a hearing; there could be no right of free speech if there were not a corresponding right not to listen. I would hardly do to make free speech free, and listening compulsory, though that might be a speaker's dream! OLD FAITHFUL IN MEMPHIS

Hossiers battling bootleggers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - It's okay for Hoosiers to buy cheaper, untaxed liquor in neighboring states, but don't try bringing it back into Indiana, warns the state Alcoholic Beverage Commission. The ABC says its New Year's resolution is to make life tough for bootleggers who import untaxed alcohol into Indiana, where it estimates $6 million in out-of-state booze is sold each year at a tax revenue loss of about $2 million

An ABC official said new enforcement methods should cut off most of the illegal traffic in the next six months.

Philip Sanders, excise police superintendent, said 80 to 90 per cent of the illegal sales are in Lake County, just across the state line from Chicago.

"Chicago has its own alcoholic beverage commission, which sets prices much lower than Indiana and the rest of Illinois," said Thomas Stoughton, administrative assistant to ABC Chairman James Sims.

"In fact, many Indiana retailers buy their liquor in Chicago and return it to Indiana for sale in their package outlets.'

Sanders said excise officers will increase patrols and investigations to cut down the importation.

"I don't understand it. The computer said we were meant for each other."

HOLIDAY REFRESHMENT - Eggnogs offer their own holiday gift bonus. Besides their delicious flavor, they are highly nutritious. The rick, smooth blend of milk and eggs in an unlimited choice of flavors makes the perfect refreshment for holiday entertaining.

Eggnog - holiday refreshment

eggnog is both. It's a rich, smooth blend of milk and eggs in an unlimited choice of flavors. And there's no question that it makes a perfect refreshment for holiday entertaining.

We offer three eggnog suggestions. For the youngsters, the Banana Nog, with its peanut butter variation. The Choconog appeals to all ages. And for the big party, our spicy Open House

Eggnog offers it own holiday gift bonus. Besides its delicious flavor, it is highly nutritious. Eggs and milk contribute high quality protein. And, of course, the milk is an excellent source of calcium and riboflavin. Milk and milk products provide about 2-3rds of the total calcium in our diets and nearly half the riboflavin.

Eggnog is so satisfying that is really needs no accompaniment. The plainest of cookies complement its creamy richness. A toast to good health and good cheer!

Berean Class brings 'cheer' to shutins

The Young Bereans Class of South Side Church of Christ enjoyed another lovely evening of fun and fellowship recently, as they held their monthly meeting in Fellowship Hall. The members gathered at the church at 7 and boarded the bus to go caroling. They visited many homes of the sick and shut-ins and friends. Santa Claus also went with them to deliver baskets of fruit to those who listened to their singing. The caroling ended with "Peter Cottontail" after which they were treated with cookies.

They returned to the church for refreshments of sandwiches, finger goods and hot chocolate. Immediately following refreshments, a business meeting was conducted by Dan Creamer, president, who conducted the meeting using the 'little hammer' a Christmas gift from the class. Jon Creamer opened with prayer.

New officers for the year were then elected: President, Terry Wisecup; vice president, Bill Temple; secretarytreasurer, Donna Kelly. Members discussed the new project of "Reach Out." A contest will be held the first of the year among the teams of the

College bowl games move into final days

By The Associated Press

The final, frantic five days of college football—a bowl schedule that will blur the eyesight of any avid television quarterback—begin Saturday with a day in the sun for Mississippi State and North Carolina, a fiesta for Brigham Young and Oklahoma State, and a peachy afternoon for Vanderbilt and Texas Tech.

Mississippi State's Bulldogs, 8-3, making their first post-season appearance in 11 years, take on North Carolina's 7-4 Tar Heels in the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex. to kick off a three-game network television afternoon for the armchair enthusiast.

At the same time, Vanderbilt, 7-3-1, will meet Texas Tech, 6-4, in the Peach Bowl at Atlanta— the only one of four Saturday contests not available to home spectators

Pacers' sale imminent

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Sale of the financially troubled Indiana Pacers seemed imminent today as the general manager of the American Basketball Association franchise called a morning news conference to discuss "the present situation."

John D. Weissert, also president of Indiana Professional Sports Inc., which controls the Pacers, said earlier the team did not have enough money to finish the season and that a new owner was being sought.

Directors of Indiana Pro Sports met Thursday, and Weissert said at that time, "We will discuss two, maybe three offers to buy the team." He said he was sure the directors would accept one of the offers.

Weissert wouldn't reveal the names of the persons making the bids, but one interested group was headed by Tom Binford, former president of the U.S. Auto Club and presently chief steward at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Binford said Thursday, "I am interested in trying to work out something that will get them out of the present fix and get them onto sound ground. But I may not be the only one trying to do this."

Davis top rusher

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rookie Charlie Davis finished up as the leading rusher of the Cincinnati Bengals, averaging 5.3 yards per carry.

But Brigham Young, 7-3-1, picks up the slack in a Fiesta Bowl matchup with 6-5 Oklahoma State at Tempe, Ariz. while East meets West at Palo Alto, Calif. in the annual Shrine All-Star Game.

All of which will set the scene for the heavy guns like Southern Cal, Ohio State, Notre Dame, Alabama, Auburn and Texas, who'll keep the ratings high for their prestigious bowl appearances later in the week.

Auburn's 9-2 Tigers will take their version of Monday Night Football to the airwaves from Jacksonville, Fla., facing the Texas Longhorns, 8-3, in the Gator Bowl.

In the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans it will be Nebraska, 8-3, against Florida, 8-3, on New Year's Eve.

On New Year's Day the Nittany Lions of Penn State, 9-2, will claw it out with the 8-3 Baylor Bears in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Later in the day, Ohio State and Southern Cal meet in football's Run for the Roses at Pasadena Calif.

The Orange Bowl from Miami will end an outstanding day of bowl activity. Notre Dame, 9-2, will stand between Alabama's perfect record and hopes of top ranking in The Associated Press poll.

Indiana tops Colonels, 122-111

By The Associated Press
The Indiana Pacers "hustled" to a victory, according to Coach Bobby

"Hustle ... that's the difference," Leonard said.

"When I say 'hustle,' I look at 17 steals. That's our bal! game," said Leonard. "We have to pick up that loose stuff."

Kentucky Coach Hubie Brown had to gree.

"They out-hustled us, outquicked us, went to the basket strong and hit their shots," Brown said.

The hustle paid off as Indiana downed Kentucky 122-111 in an American Basketball Association game Thursday.

In other ABA games, the New York Nets crushed Virginia 130-85, San Diego clipped Memphis 112-108, St. Louis nipped San Antonio 119-118 and Denver stopped Utah 107-102.

Billy Keller and George McGinnis combined for 64 points to lead the Pacers. Keller, a 5-foot-10 guard, scored a season-high 33 points, while the 6-foot-8 McGinnis, the league's top scorer, added 31 points.

NFL squads set for playoffs

Ry The Associated Press

By The Associated Press
The introductions in Oakland will go something like: "Ken Stabler, meet
Mean Joe Green...J.T. Thomas, meet
Fred Biletnikoff."

In Bloomington, Minn., it'll be: "Fran Tarkenton and James Harris, meet Old Man Winter."

When Oakland and Pittsburgh meet for the National Football League's AFC title and Minnesota and Los Angeles meet for the NFC crown, none is likely to say, "Pleased to meet you."

Oakland quarterback Ken Stabler, who proved last week against Miami he can throw the football from almost any position, will be facing a Pittsburgh front line that led the NFL in quarterback sacks. Steeler defensive tackle Mean Joe Green will try to test Stabler's gymnastic ability.

At the same time, cornerback J.T. Thomas will have the unenviable job of keeping the football out of the sticky hands of Raider veteran wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff.

Minnesota's 14-year veteran quarterback, Fran Tarkenton, and the Rams' James Harris, untested in playoff action, both are practicing with teams that opted to avoid the frozen gridiron of Bloomington's Metropolitan Stadium until today.

The Vikings are practicing in Tulsa.

Okla., and will not fly home until today. Neither team will test the game field until today, and then only if weather and field conditions permit.

The Raiders are favored by a touchdown, the Vikes by four points.

Green, L.C. Greenwood, Dwight White and Ernie Holmes, the Steeler' front four, have bothered quarterbacks all season—52 sacks—but it was the Steeler offense last week against Buffaio that Green ballyhooed.

"Baby, they've arrived," he said. "It was the day Terry Bradshaw proved to everybody that he had finally become our offensive leader."

Thomas will draw the assignment of covering Biletnikoff, who caught eight passes for 122 yards and a touchdown against Miami.

On Sept. 29, Oakland beat the Steelers 17-0, but Pittsburgh running back Franco Harris, a 1,000-yard gainer this year, was ailing and Joe Gilliam was calling signals.

Coach Bud Grant says the weather really isn't why the Vikes moved out of the state.

"But we must be concerned with field conditions," Grant said, "and at this time of year, there aren't many places we can practice in Minnesota."

Los Angeles Coach Chuck Knox added, "The cold shouldn't be a factor.

You can never get used to the cold, but unless there's a blizzard or frozen field, the weather shouldn't be a factor."

Purdue, Oklahoma upset victims

By ALEX SACHARE

The opening skirmishes in college basketball's big weekend of holiday festivals provided no cause for celebration on the part of Purdue and Oklahoma, a pair of top 20 teams.

Both were upset victims in firstround tournament action Thursday

Davis notes Bucks' strength, quickness

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Recordsplattering tailback Anthony Davis of Southern California contends Ohio State's defensive line will present more problems for him than Notre Dame did.

"The strong point of the Ohio State defense is the line," said the greatest rusher in Pac-8 football history, looking ahead to a third straight meeting with the Buckeyes Jan. 1 in the Rose Bowl.

"It's quick and strong, not as big as Notre Dame's," Davis continued, "but stronger, faster.

"I've got to stay alert all the time," added Davis, who wound up his senior season with four touchdowns and 149 yards rushing in the Trojans' 55-24 mauling of Notre Dame.

The 5-foot-9, 183-pound speedster piled up 3,627 career yards. That broke O. J. Simpson's conference record by more than 200 yards. Davis, with 52 touchdowns and 314 points in three seasons, owns those Pac-8 marks, too.

Such exploits have not gone undetected by Ohio State's defense. "Davis is an elite group. He ranks with the Simpsons and the (Archie) Griffins," said linebacker Bruce Elia, the No. 1 tackler for Ohio State.

"They've got great rushing and Davis is the man who gets them going," Elia said. "Their guards are big and pull well for Davis' sweeps. The Tackles are excellent blockers. They are solid along the line."

One of the classic matchups should be Bill Bain, Southern California's 268pound all-conference guard, against Pete Cusick, 250 pounds and an All-Big Ten defensive tackle.

"The pros feel Bain is the best offensive guard in the country. He's big, strong, quick, intelligent," said Cusick, sizing up his heralded duel with Bain.

Arnie Jones worked as a defensive tackle against the Trojans in the 42-21 Rose Bowl victory last January. This time the 240-pound senior will start at middle linebacker or nose guard.

Jones knows the Trojans well, saying, "Their style doesn't vary that much, only the people. They are more wide open than most teams we face."

Delmonica withheld from European race

Delmonica Hanover's bid for a second consecutive victory in Europe's most prestigious harness race, the Prix d'Amerique, has been brought to a halt. The five-year old mare has contacted a virus and high temperature, forcing her to lose approximately four weeks on her training schedule.

Voted as the "Harness Horse of the Year" in 1974, Delmonica Hanover is the daughter of Speedy Count-Delicious. Ed Kirk of Washington Court House owned Speedy Count.

Last month, Delmonica Hanover was

Last month, Delmonica Hanover was sold at auction for a record $300,000. The eighth leading money-winner of all time came from 10th place to become the first American-owned horse to ever win the Prix d'Amerique last year.

Delmonica Hanover will resume training in January. In February, she will be sent to Germany, where European champion Hans Fromming will drive her in several major European contests, including the Grand Prize of Bavaria in Munich and Elitlopp in Stockholm.

In August, the Speedy Count mare will attempt an unprecedented third straight victory in the Roosevelt International, which is to be held in Westbury N.Y.

Detroit Red Wings tie North Stars, 4-4

By The Associated Press
More often than not, a player will say it's "just another game" when he competes against the team that traded him.

Danny Grant made himself an exception to that rule Thursday night, after his two goals helped the Detroit Red Wings tie the Minnesota North Stars 4-4 in National Hockey League action.

Holiday Classic at Louisville and 18thrated Oklahoma suffering a 75-68 trimming at the hands of Nebraska in the Big Eight tournament at Kansas City.

The only top ten team to play Thursday night was fourth-ranked Louisville, which had little trouble raising its record to 6-0, running away from Western Kentucky 107-81 in the other opening-round game of the Holiday Classic it is hosting.

Elsewhere, No. 11 South Carolina,

No. 12 Providence, No. 16 Memphis State, No. 19 Oregon and No. 20 Ruters all posted victories in first-round tournament action.

Clutch free throw shooting by Carlton Byrd and Wayne Smalls preserved Florida State's upset of 15th-ranked Purdue in the opener of the doubleheader at Louisville.

The Seminoles led 65-64 with 32 seconds remaining when Byrd and Smalls made good on one-and-one free throw situations for an insurmountable five-point lead.

In the second game, Western Kentucky stayed close to Louisville in the first half on the strength of its fast break, which produced 10 layups. But Louisville asserted itself in the second half, stretching a 49-43 halftime edge to as much as 30 points at one stage.

Nebraska blew an 11-point lead early

McAdoo leads NBA voting

NEW YORK (AP) — Buffalo's Bob McAdoo, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer and rebounder, and New York's Earl Monroe have moved into the forefront for starting berths on the Eastern Conference team in the league's 1975 All-Star game at Phoenix Jan. 14.

The 6-foot-10 McAdoo, whose 49 points against Cleveland on Dec. 19 are the most scored by any player in an NBA game this season, has passed Boston's Dave Cowens for the East's starting center position in the latest computerized fan balloting, announced today by Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Cowens, the East's starting center in last season's All-Star game, had led the voting since it began five weeks ago. Voting officially ended Dec. 25 and the starting lineups will be announced Jan.

Monroe moved ahead of Jo Jo White of Boston in the battle to join New York's Walt Frazier in the East's starting backcourt. Frazier remained the league's top vote-getter, although exact figures were not disclosed.

Heading the voting for the East's starting forward spots were Boston's John Havlicek and Washington's Elvin Hayes.

The West's leaders were the same as they have been throughout the voting, with Rick Barry of Golden State and Spencer Haywood of Seattle the top forwards, Kareem AbdulJabbar of Milwaukee the No. 1 center, and Gail Goodrich of Los Angeles and Nate Archibald of Kansas City-Omaha the frontrunners at guards.

in the second half, then came on again to upset 18th-ranked Oklahoma in the Big Eight tournament.

South Carolina, ranked 11th, overwhelmed Assumption 113-81 and 12thranked Providence nipped Holy Cross 76-75 in the first round of the ECAC Ocean State tournament at Providence, R.I.

In the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore., 19th-ranked Oregon went on a 19-2 spurt at the start of the second half and went on to defeat Creighton 75-64 and unbeaten but unranked Arizona State posted its ninth consecutive victory over Boston College.

At the Poinsettia Classic in Greenville, S.C., Lafayette trounced Baylor 105-84, and Furman overpowered George Washington 102-76.

Meanwhile, touring North Carolina, ranked ninth among U.S. colleges, dropped a 112-101 decision to Real Madrid in the finals of the Spanish Christmas holiday basketball tournament in Madrid, Spain.

Kentucky State, 4-0 and rated No. 1 in the college division ranks, beat St. Thomas, Minn. 62-50 in the opening round of the Granite City Classic at St. Cloud, Minn.

The average age of the Rhodes cabinet is 53. The youngest member named thus far was Richard Jackson, 40, to be director of transportation.

The oldest will be Helen W. Evans. 69, new industrial relations director. 'Rhodes always promised us 'Golden Age Village' and he's finally created one," quipped one Statehouse wag. "That law requiring automatic sprinkler systems for nursing homes should be amended to include the Statehouse," said another

At a news conference a reporter asked Gov. John J. Gilligan, "Did you know any of the cabinet appointees?' With a broad smile, Gilligan nodded and said, "Being a student of history I knew them.' Whatever the quips, Rhodes decided to stick with those who had been tested. With the exception of Chan Cochran, an administrative assistant, the first appointments were all people who had served him before. As head of the Department of Economic and Community Development, Rhodes selected his former assistant and press aide, James A.

The state Department of Commerce recently cited a highly publicized Hollywood movie about a skyscraper fire to stump for reintroduction of a bill that would broaden the state fire marshal's authority to enforce safety standards.

The department thinks the fire marshal should be empowered to force conform to a law that became effective on that date. The law requires smoke

"It is anticipated that it will be reintroduced early in 1975," the department said.

Ex-dictator of Thailand arrested on return home

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Ousted military dictator Thanom Kittikachorn slipped back into Thailand today and the government put him under house

Leaders of the politically powerful student movement demanded that the 65-year-old former field marshal be put on trial for the death of 72 civilians during the student-led uprising in October 1973 that overthrew his military government and sent Thanom into exile

The students accused Thanom of ordering the military and police to shoot at the students, and they demanded the death penalty.

Thanom has been living in Boston, Mass., with his wife and some members of his family since the coup. He arrived in Bangkok before dawn aboard a Lufthansa plane.

Deputy Premier Prakorb Hutasing told newsmen that the government had decided at an emergency meeting to place Thanom under house arrest at an undisclosed location pending an investigation of the students' charges. He said Thanom was accompanied by his wife, who was not arrested.

Prakorb said Thanom sent him a message this morning saying that he was returning to visit his ailing 89-yearold father. Prakorb said the letter read: "When I left Thailand I had no time to say goodby to my father, and that was the reason I returned to Thailand today."

Thanom asked to visit his father last month, but tentative government approval of the trip touched off such an outcry that he was told his visit was not

Prakorb said the arrest and investigation had been delegated to the Defense Ministry because Thanom's alleged misdeeds were under the martial law by which he had ruled.

student government of Bangkok's Thammasat University birthplace of the 1973 uprising that ended 26 years of military dictatorship issued a statement calling Thanom the "No.1 criminal of Thailand."

"If the government claims there is not enough evidence to try Thanom, the student government proposes that the acts of killing people and evading taxes ... are enough evidence to arrest and try him," the statement said.

Thanom returned at a time that his successor as premier,

Thamassat, was out of Bangkok and the commander of the armed forces was in the Philippines on a tour of Southeast Asia.

1. Pass. East's spade bid relieves you of the obligation to respond to North's heart bid. By far the simplest way of telling partner you opened a minimum is by a pass. To bid a notrump at this stage would show 15 points rather than 13, while to bid two clubs would indicate a better suit and a better hand than you

2. Four hearts. You shouldn't be willing to play this hand under game, so you bid four hearts showing ten probable tricks even if partner has only 6 points. Three hearts would be altogether inadequate—it is not even a forcing bid.

4. Double. With six probable defensive tricks in your hand, and a partner likely to contribute several more, the best contract appears to be one spade doubled played by East. Some of the biggest profits in bridge are collected from hands where the opponents bite off more than they can chew.

5. Three hearts. Game prospects are good, but not quite good enough to insure ten tricks. All you can properly do at this point is invite partner to undertake game by giving him a jump raise. If he passes, which he might do with a bad hand, he will probably have a struggle making even nine tricks. The raise to three hearts shows 17 to 19 points, part of which may consist of distributional values.

6. Three notrump. It would be wrong to bid only two notrump or three clubs at this stage, either of which North could pass with minimum strength for his heart bid. Whoever gave you that false bit of information must have extracted it from an encyclopedia of medical ignorance!

It is almost impossible for doctors to compete with friends who have a special knack for picking up ridiculous in-formation and then stating it positively.

There are few more gratifying operations, from a cosmetic point of view, than that done by a plastic surgeon to remove the sagging skin and fatty deposit on the lower and upper eyelids.

More and more women and men, too, are undergoing this safe and not-too-difficult operation.

There does seem to be a family tendency to such congenital defects.

Vast strides have been made in the better understanding of genetic diseases. In fact, it is now possible to

Most medical centers and universities now have centers genetic counseling. Thorough histories are taken of children, their parents and their grandparents, in an effort to track down hidden hereditary tendencies that may play a role in birth defects.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - The Western Hemisphere debut of Soviet ballet dancers Valery and Galina Panov has been postponed a second time and is now scheduled for Feb. 4.

The Panovs originally were to have danced here Dec. 10, but the performance was postponed until Jan. 7 after Valery strained a leg muscle.

The Panovs' manager, Maxim Gershunoff, said the date was changed again Thursday on the advice of Valery's doctor and because of problems over arrangements with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra.

Government rebuttal set today

Jury expected to get coverup case Monday

Judge John J. Sirica wants the Watergate cover-up trial lawyers to complete their closing arguments so the jury can begin deliberating on a verdict Monday.

Sirica made that announcement on Thursday shortly after Jacob Stein, lawyer for Kenneth W. Parkinson, began his closing argument.

Lawyers for the other four defendants - former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, ex-White House aides H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman and former Assistant Atty. Gen. Robert 4:30 p.m. EST. C. Mardian — already have summed up their cases for the jury.

Sirica had been pushing the defense

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. District Assistant Prosecutor Richard Ben- abruptly changed his mind and per-

Stein had protested earlier when Sirica said he wanted him to finish even if it meant going past 6 p.m. Trial sessions on most days have ended at

Under the new schedule, the jury will get the weekend off and hear Sirica's instructions on legal points when they return on Monday. The judge said he expects to devote about two hours to the instructions.

Then the nine women and three men who have listened to 11 weeks of testimony and argument will begin their deliberations in the historic case that drove Richard M. Nixon from the presidency.

The former president had been named an unindicted coconspirator in the case. But he was found too ill to appear as a witness.

President Ford pardoned Nixon, making prosecution of the former president impossible.

During the trial, the pardon was never mentioned in front of the jury until Thursday when William S. Frates, Ehrlichman's lawyer, made a veiled reference to it in his closing argument.

Frates mentioned a White House tape of Nixon saying that during his second term he would consider pardons for anyone convicted in Watergate prosecutions.

"Absolutely nothing illegal about that," said Frates. "Certain people do get pardoned in this country.

Thomas Green, Mardian's lawyer, made him one of the nation's most beloved comics, and he maintained a involvement in Watergate covered "35, schedule of personal appearances until maybe 40 days in his life in the summer

He said the entire case against Mardian was not based on White House tapes but on the testimony of people who were being asked to remember things that had occurred more than two years earlier.

"You don't have to lie to wreak havoc in a courtroom, all you have to have is a bad memory," said Green. "People's memories fail and they think they remember certain things when in fact they don't."

SURRENDERS AFTER STANDOFF — A man identified as Marshall Fields by authorities stands with wires attached to his body at right and waves a white object outside the White House in Washington. The Secret Service said

Fields crashed his car through a White House gate, sped to the entrance and stood there for four hours with what guards feared were explosives wired to his body. After he surrendered no explosives were found.

Jack Benny dies after cancer fight

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Reagan, entertainer Frank Sinatra, Jack Benny, the makebelieve miser whose deadpan humor broke up audiences from vaudeville days into the age of television, is dead of cancer of the pancreas. He was 80.

His wife of 47 years was at his bedside when he died at his home late Thursday night.

Benny's long-time manager, Irving Fein, said the comedian had been kept under heavy sedation because of severe pain. Dr. Rex Kennamer, Benny's personal physician, said the cancer was inoperable, according to Fein.

Stomach pains troubled Benny recently and discomfort forced him to cut short his last public appearance earlier this month. But tests did not disclose the cancer until it showed up on X rays last Friday, Fein said.

The manager said exploratory surgery was vetoed by doctors because of the entertainer's advanced age.

In addition to Benny's wife, other family members were present when he died. Mrs. Benny, the former Sadie Marks, is popularly known as Mary Livingstone, the name she took when she joined Benny on stage. The couple adopted one daughter, Joan.

Middle East remains thorn in U.S. side

By ENDRE MARTON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) -Around Christmas time many office doors at the State Department are decorated. The decoration on the office door of assistant secretary Alfred L. Atherton was unusual this year: it consisted of ten empty oil cans neatly strung on a

Atherton is head of the bureau which handles U.S. affairs in the Middle East, and for the last two years the Middle East has meant two things: the Arab-

Israeli dispute and oil. There is little hope that it will be different in 1975. Oil might cease to be a political weapon if the Arab-Israeli dispute is solved peacefully. But the price of oil will remain an issue unless the industrialized world finds a substitute

These are the melancholy conclusions of administration experts at year end. They all agree on the obvious: that the Middle East is a dangerous and volatile place. But, in line with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's wishes, they refuse to be pessimistic about the future.

The question boils down to this: will there be another war in the Middle East in 1975? If the answer is "yes," then there is a strong possibility of another oil embargo, possibly on a larger scale than in 1973.

Any future embargo could be larger because Iran might join the Arabs in withholding oil. This would be a heavy blow for Western Europe and Japan, which are dependent to a large extent on Iran's oil.

U.S. officials are reluctant to talk about the Mideast's future and they refer to Kissinger's statement at a Dec. 3 press conference that "this phase of Middle East diplomacy should be with a minimum of public declarations."

There is some suspicion that this plea for quiet diplomacy really means that there is nothing to be said because Kissinger's efforts have produced no dramatic long-term progress, though they may have prevented another war late this fall. Kissinger is known to believe that the time has come to push for a second-stage Israeli-Egyptian disengagement second step toward disengagement agreement. It also is known that there has been some progress. The Israelis have given up their insistence that such a second step should be combined with some kind of political agreement, such as renunciation of war. And the Egyptians should include almost all of the Sinai peninsula

Mother, 4 children brutally murdered

charges of murder and one of rape were filed against a 34-year-old laborer today in the "cold-blooded execution" of four children and the strangulation

Henry County Sheriff C. P. Witt said the charges were placed against Eddie Lee "Shanghai" Thomas, who had been under questioning since late Thursday.

Thomas lived only one-quarter mile from the home of James Vernon Aliff, who returned home from work Thursday afternoon and found the body of his wife, Sally, on the floor beside her bed. A medical examiner said she had been strangled.

The bodies of the four Aliff children, each shot in the head, were found about an hour and 45 minutes later in a wooded gully near the home.

Witt told a news conference today that Thomas and Aliff were both employed at the same factory, and that Thomas had denied involvement in the slayings. Thomas is being held under $100,000 bond.

Police said the murderer may have interrupted Mrs. Aliff and the children as they ate lunch. County Medical Examiner John P. Bing said they died about 11:30 a.m.

The body of their mother, in nightclothes, was on the floor beside her bed. Autopsies were scheduled.

Police said they originally thought all the children were marched to the gully and shot. But they said later that two of the children may have been killed

The Aliff house, off a dirt road in a wooded area about six miles west of this southern Virginia city, is about 200 yards from the nearest neighbor. A neighbor said she heard four gunshots about 11:30 a.m. but thought nothing of it because hunters were in the area.

Officers said there were signs of a struggle inside the house but would not elaborate. Reporters were not allowed

Witt said a .30-caliber rifle was missing from the Aliff home, but it had not been determined if it was used to kill the children.

Evans spent two hours in municipal court here last week. He told the judge the tickets should be dismissed. He also one of every 20 Ohioans is on welfare, state officials say, and all indications alleged that the city uses a double standard in its collection procedures, are that the percentage will increase. County welfare departments say they've been swamped with applicants for food stamps and emergency assistance as Ohioans face continued inflation, increased layoffs and the exhaustion of their unemployment compensation benefits.

At the end of November 1973, there were 495,000 people on welfare, Lightner said. That is an increase of 4.2 per cent in one year.

Lightner said the welfare department utilizes Aid to Dependent Children program statistics, which must be reported weekly by each county welfare office, as a "sort of barometer that gives us an indication of what's going on.

present average is eight times last year's figure.

The Welfare Department has a twoyear $638.7 million budget, 54 per cent of which is federal money, Lightner

'When the legislature appropriated the money, it was based on a 2,200 case load increase per month," Lightner said, "not the 4,400 we're having." However, he said, the funds budgeted for 1974 were not used and can be applied to this year's increases.

'The money is available," he said, whether it is large enough is the

In Hancock County, as in many Ohio counties, applicants for welfare assistance now must make appointments.

Hancock County Welfare Director Janet Myers said the office's work load has tripled for food stamps and increased by one-third in the emergency assistance programs.

"What goes on in Hancock County is true across the board in most counties, particularly in the larger urban counties," Lightner said.

Lightner said the welfare department is "having problems in keeping up the supply of forms which the counties use.

State and national crime skyrockets

By The Associated Press

Serious crime in Ohio's major cities continued an upward trend during the first nine months of 1974, rising an average of 13 per cent, according to FBI statistics released today.

Across the nation, in cities of more than 100,000 population, crime rose 16 per cent, the largest increase in six years. By comparison, crime rose one per cent during the first nine months of last year, the FBI said.

"The continuing increase in crime requires an intensification of our efforts to identify the causes, improve crime prevention and insure swift prosecution," said outgoing Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe.

The latest figures are based on crime statistics furnished by city, county and state law enforcement agencies.

The eight Ohio cities surveyed were Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Parma, Toledo and Young-

Toledo experienced the greatest increase in offenses reported from January through September 1974 compared to the previous year with 21,975, incidents, an increase of 26 per

Columbus saw a 22 per cent rise while Cleveland and Akron both showed crime increases of 19 per cent. In Canton, and Youngstown, the index was up by 9 per cent and in Cincinnati

Only Parma with a population slightly over 100,000 showed a decline in crime, by 2 per cent.

In the first nine months of 1974, there were 1,910 offenses known to Parma area law enforcement agencies compared to 1,953 in 1973. However, burglary, breaking or entering and motor vehicle theft were rising.

The number of robberies in Parma dropped from 31 in 1973 to 19 this past September, a 32 per cent decrease.

Aggravated assault rose by 36 per cent in Cleveland. Burglary and breaking or entering increased by 34 per cent while larceny theft was up by 21 per cent.

Other major increases were: -Murder and non-negligent manslaughter up by 126 per cent in Akron with a rise of 15 to 34 deaths. A 28 per cent increase in burglary, breaking or entering in Canton, from 987 to 1,268 incidents. -Larceny theft rose 33 per cent in Columbus.

-A 32 per cent jump in larceny theft in Toledo.

FBI figures show that the national crime rate rose 16 per cent in the first nine months of 1974, the largest increase for the period in six years.

The crime rate in smaller cities showed the largest increase.

The figures released today reflect an 8 per cent increase in the violent crimes of murder, rape, robbery and assault. The property crimes of burglary, larceny and vehicle theft jumped 17 per The new report, based on statistics supplied by local and state law enforcement agencies across the country, indicated that the upward surge that began in the last three months of 1973 has continued.

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said the continuing crime increase "requires an intensification of our efforts to identify the causes, improve crime prevention and insure swift protection.

Crime rose only 1 per cent during the same period a year ago.

Then the spiral began, with the 5 per cent increase recorded for the last quarter of 1973 and a 15 per cent increase in the first quarter of 1974. The six-month figures for this year also showed a 16 per cent increase, as do the nine-month figures.

Stock list rally stalls

NEW YORK (AP) — Continued recession prospects halted a two-day rally in the stock market today and left prices slightly lower in quiet trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 1.56 at 603.18. Losers outnumbered gainers by a 5-4 margin on the New York Stock Exchange. As trading began, the government reported that its index of leading economic indicators slipped 1.5 per cent in November for its fourth straight monthly crop. The index is designed to foreshadow developing economic trends. On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index lost .20 to 59.31. The market also had to contend with other depressants. # Two hostages slain; gunman surrenders

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) - A farmwife and her teen-age daughter were found shot to death after the surrender of an escaped prisoner who had held them hostage in their home for seven hours.

Authorities identified the victims as Marian Napierala, 53, and Gayle Napierala, 19. A second daughter, Cynthia, 17, also was held hostage. She was uninjured but was taken to a hospital in shock.

The Indiana State Prison escapee, Riley Mosley Jr., 29, of Indianapolis, was taken to the state prison's main compound in this rural community. He had been serving a 10-20 year sentence for armed robbery at a nearby minimum security prison farm. State police said discovery of the bodies Thursday night surprised them because only 25 minutes before the surrender — with 14 shotgun-armed state policemen surrounding the house police had talked by telephone with all three hostages.

Anthony Vicari, commander of the Dunes Park state police post, said officers had also talked with Mosley. "All during the conversations, he said he would not harm the hostages," Vicari said.

Vicari also said the policemen, who were at least 100 yards away, had heard no shots and did not fire their guns at any point.

Jim Smith, Gov. Otis R. Bowen's executive assistant in charge of corrections, said Mosley walked out of the Napierela home at 10:10 p.m. and dropped two guns — a pistol and a rifle

Jesus Tempted by the Devil

And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred. - Matthew IV: 2

After Jesus, alone, had fasted for forty days and nights in the wilderness, he was tired and hungry. It was then that Satan appeared before him and mocked: If thou be the Son of God, change these stones into bread. Jesus reprimanded him, saying: Man doth not live by bread alone ...but by the word of God. Then the devil led him to the pinnacle of a temple and challenged Jesus to jump, scathingly arguing that "of course" God's angels would protect him. Again Jesus refused. Undaunted, Satan offered him the entire universe if Jesus would but fall to his knees and worship him. Angered, Jesus banished him, saying "... it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and only him shalt thou serve." Then the devil left and angels came to minister to him.

NEW YORK (AP) opened, a barrier breached. The intent was for antagonisms to be overcome and the separated to come together in friendship, with each other and with their God.

That was the underlying theme and hope of a special 1975 Holy Year, launched by Roman Catholicism on Christmas Eve this week in Rome, with the opening in St. Peter's Basilica of a walled-up door.

"I am the door," Jesus said, laying the basis for the ceremonial gesture. "If any one enters by me, he will be saved.

Opening of the special church door. kept sealed since the last observance of a Holy Year Jubilee a quarter-century ago, symbolizes full accessibility to humanity of Christ's pardon and grace.

Catholicism is putting year-long emphasis on that bestowal of forgiveness and restoration of broken relationships, an objective that also has implications for other Christians and for Judaism.

"Renewal and reconciliation" is the seynote set by Pope Paul VI.

In the extensive preparations for the year, varied suggestions have come from many quarters for steps by the church and others to heal conflicts and renew ties, both spiritually and tan-

Numerous Protestant and Catholic scholars have urged special efforts toward overcoming cleavages between denominations and rebuilding of unity.

To further that cause, the Rev. Avery Dulles, a noted Jesuit theologian of the Catholic University of America, suggests that the Church lift its condemnations of those who reject certain of its doctrines about the Virgin Mary. Referring to Catholic dogmas of Mary's immaculate conception (birth without sin) and bodily assumption into heaven, he questioned whether these beliefs are so central that failure to assent to them was an adequate basis for excluding persons from the faith.

He says removing the anathemas about them would contribute to reconciliation with other Christians one of the aims of the Holy Year.

Protestants do not accept the two dogmas, defined by Catholicism in 1854 and 1950.

Pointing up links with Judaism, the Vatican has issued a booklet on the origins of the "holy year" in the ancient Jewish Year of Jubilee, prepared by Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, of the American Jewish Committee.

In the ancient Jewish observance, set forth in the Book of Leviticus, debts were forgiven, land restored to its original owners and slaves freed.

Citing these acts of clemency, Pope Paul has appealed to governments to consider granting amnesty to prisoners, particularly political prisoners "who may have been caught up in political and social upheavals too immense for them to be held fully responsible.

New initiative on MIAs

Repeatedly one hears assertions that our government is not trying hard enough to track down conclusive data on missing U.S. servicemen in Vietnam. This may be so. but at least it is heartening to learn that Washington is actively needling Hanoi and the Provisional Revolutionary Government of South

Vietnam about some of the cases. The U.S. embassy in Saigon says the Communists have been confronted with "conclusive" indications that they have information on 87 individuals. This is all the more important because the systematic hunt for missing Americans was suspended a year ago and negotiations among members of the joint military team have also stopped. No great optimism is warranted, but the latest development does provide relatives and friends of the missing with fresh grounds for hope.

The difficulty is that I had forgotten how bad cocktail parties are, so I feel like a prize dope. In our married life, my wife and I have thrown one cocktail party to celebrate my first book. It was quite an event: Most people seemed to want martinis, and I had been raised by my father to believe that nobody in his right senses would mix wine with spirits. I rose to the occasion-nobly, as it turned out - bought some gin and vermouth, and served pitchers of martinis which had the guests stacked like cordwood in three hours. A Scotch drinker, I watched this with some amusement; the problem was that no one had told me how to mix martinis, so I simply put in enough vermouth to kill the taste of the ice. Later I was accused of trying to get everybody "stoned" (in the old sense of the word), but I was

Since that time, even when we were on the Washington circuit, we have avoided cocktail parties like the plague. Indeed, some years ago I invented a game down on Martha's Vineyard (which in July and August is a permanent floating cocktail party). We would accept invitations, not show and then, later, congratulate the hostess for her "wonderful hospitality." We got to about 18 wins one summer before we were caught and that was a freak situation in which a relative was there, without my knowledge, and the hostess launched a full-court press to find us. Normally, nobody has the slightest notion of who was there.

In short, the cocktail party is a form institutionalized anti-social behavior. At one fell swoop a lazy hostess cleans up a year's social obligations. Our substitute has been, for almost 28 years, to have a couple for dinner. There you get a chance to engage in intelligent conversation, get some serious ballast aboard to counter any alcohol, and in general enjoy a civilized environment.

Unfortunately last night we got trapped: The reception was held by an old political friend, and I didn't feel that I could call up at the last minute and say, "Sorry about tonight. I just broke my wrist." So, wearing spiritual mourning, so to speak, off we went to one of those stand-up monstrosities with about 175 people jogging each other's elbows. The spirit of the evening can best be conveyed by the remark someone made to my wife. She had a major back fusion a decade ago and can not stand up indefinitely. Engaged in amiable conversation, she suggested that it would be a good idea to sit down (there were some undertaker's chairs along the wall). The man she was talking to blissfully replied, "No, I don't like to sit down at these affairs. You are liable to get stuck in conversation.'

There was, in fact, a conspiracy against conversation. To make sure that nobody would get trapped in conversation with anybody else, the host had laid on a hi-fi, playing what I suspect to be Australian aboriginal music at 90 decibels. Later, I confess, I regretted I hadn't polished off more Chivas: That music gave me a headache worse than any hangover in memory. I thought the top was coming off my head but - since my wife does not like to drive at night - I sadly persevered in my abstinence. (For the record, ginger ale does not do much for a headache)

So here I am at 2 a.m., still with a headache ( and nothing to show for it), longing to reinstitute the death penalty for the offense of throwing cocktail parties. As I said, I am a bit unnerved at the prospect of trying to beat my wife. Maybe I can find those cats and give them a loving boot, but then they never throw a stand-up party. I guess I'll just settle for an aspirin. And no Christmas "parties."

French divorces circumvent law

PARIS (AP) — Getting a divorce in France can be an elaborately orchestrated farce in which petitioner, lawyers and even the judge collaborate to circumvent a civil code instituted by Napoleon 171 years ago.

Under the code, the judge is required to formally pronounce one of the parties guilty before granting a divorce. The concept of guilty and innocent in the breakup of a marriage was a concession to the Roman Catholic Church and was meant to discourage divorce.

But nowadays it often leads only to sordid play-acting by all concerned in a divorce case. The law is widely felt to have become outmoded, just like the legislation on abortion which is now being modernized.

The government is drafting more liberal legislation permitting divorce by mutual consent and for other reasons long accepted in the United States and other Western countries. There has been no outcry from conservative forces yet, but the project may run into heavy flak when it reaches the National Assembly in the spring

Meanwhile, if Mr. and Mrs. DuPont have lost the old spark and fully agree they want to break up, they have to go through something like this to get a divorce:

Dear ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

He wants Abby

to choose his wife

DEAR ABBY: I have a big decision to make and I need your help. My wife died 14 moths ago. She was 41, and I am 39. We never had any children as she was never strong enough.

Two women came into my life and both are pressing for marriage. One is a fine lady who could give me an easy life. By that I mean a place in society, a beautiful home and a very, very secure income. I would never have to worry about money with this lady. She is a widow who says she is 51, and she looks it-and more. She can't give me a very exciting lovelife, however, as she is quite dried up and not a beauty by any

The other woman has nothing to offer except herself. An exciting lovelife would be assured with this one. She is very good to look at, and is only 28.

If I knew I would live to be a ripe old age, I'd marry the widow, but if I could be sure I would die in 10 to 15 years from now I would marry the younger

Please don't leave this decision up to me. One day I think one way and the next day I change my mind. Thank you. CAN'T DECIDE

DEAR CAN'T: If you think I am going to choose you wife for you, you're mistaken. That's a choice you'll have to make yourself. Nobody knows how long he'll live, but it's wise to live as though there will be a tomorrow-because there usually is.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think I am out of my mind, but I have always had the feeling that they gave me the wrong baby when I left the hospital. The "baby" is now 15 years old and I can't get the notion out of my head.

I have the baby's little footprints on the certificate of birth, and I know footprints don't change, so I wonder if you would think I was crazy if I asked my daughter to step in some ink and make another footprint to compare to the one on her certificate? Thank you for not laughing.

WRONG BABY MAYBE DEAR WRONG: If it will make you feel better, go ahead. But be warned: How will you feel and what will you do if the footprints do NOT match? DEAR ABBY: My husband had a very bad heart attack a month ago. We live in the country and there wasn't an ambulance available, so I drove him 52 miles to the hospital. Need I tell you what an ordeal that was?

I stayed with my husband for three hours, then the doctor told me he was out of danger so I should go home and get some rest, so I went home.

In the meantime I had phoned my daughter and son to tell them about their father. When my daughter got to the hospital and found that I had gone home, she called and raised the roof, saying I should have stayed at the hospital with her father. Abby, she has brought this up several times since, and it bothers me.

I love my husband dearly and prayed for his recovery night and day, but my daughter keeps trying to make me feel

Do you think I neglected my husband?

DEAR HURT: You took the doctor's advice, which I think was very wise. Your daughter can't make you feel guilty without your cooperation. You KNOW you didn't neglect your husband, so tune your daughter out, and don't feel hurt.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to Mrs. M.H., you write, "What you are saying is that the secret of getting your children to listen to you is to listen to THEM."

Abby, I wonder how many people realize that there is a right NOT to listen. The late Willian Ernest Hocking wrote, "The speaker has no right to compel a hearing; there could be no right of free speech if there were not a corresponding right not to listen. I would hardly do to make free speech free, and listening compulsory, though that might be a speaker's dream!" OLD FAITHFUL IN MEMPHIS

Hossiers battling bootleggers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - It's okay for Hoosiers to buy cheaper, untaxed liquor in neighboring states, but don't try bringing it back into Indiana, warns the state Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

The ABC says its New Year's resolution is to make life tough for bootleggers who import untaxed alcohol into Indiana, where it estimates $6 million in out-of-state booze is sold each year at a tax revenue loss of about $2 million.

An ABC official said new enforcement methods should cut off most of the illegal traffic in the next six months.

Philip Sanders, excise police superintendent, said 80 to 90 per cent of the illegal sales are in Lake County, just across the state line from Chicago. "Chicago has its own alcoholic beverage commission, which sets prices much lower than Indiana and the rest of Illinois," said Thomas Stoughton, administrative assistant to ABC Chairman James Sims. "In fact, many Indiana retailers buy their liquor in Chicago and return it to Indiana for sale in their package outlets.

Sanders said excise officers will increase patrols and investigations to cut down the importation.

of her father. She wore a long bridal gown of white delustered satin with long, full sleeves and wide lace ruffled cuffs. A matching wide lace ruffled edged the hemline and long, flowing train. Her veil of illusion was shoulder length and trimmed with seed pearls and petals. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations.

Miss Becky Nance was maid of honor. She wore a long dress with green velvet skirt and floral bodice with matching velvet ribbon in her hair. She carried three carnations of pink, white and lavender with greenery.

The Misses Linda and Patricia Hollar, sisters of the bride, served as bridesmaids. They wore long gowns of burgundy velvet skirts with floral bodice. Each carried a single car-

Robbie Dean Kelley recently celebrated his first birthday along with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randy R. Kelley, at his home at 327 W. Is it a drink? Or is it food? We think eggnog is both. It's a rich, smooth blend of milk and eggs in an unlimited choice of flavors. And there's no question that makes a perfect refreshment for holiday entertaining.

Eggnog offers it own holiday gift bonus. Besides its delicious flavor, it is highly nutritious. Eggs and milk contribute high quality protein. And, of course, the milk is an excellent source of calcium and riboflavin. Milk and milk products provide about 2-3rds of the total calcium in our diets and nearly half the riboflavin.

Eggnog is so satisfying that is really needs no accompaniment. The plainest of cookies complement its creamy richness. A toast to good health and good cheer!

They returned to the church for refreshments of sandwiches, finger goods and hot chocolate. Immediately following refreshments, a business meeting was conducted by Dan Creamer, president, who conducted the meeting using the 'little hammer' a Christmas gift from the class. # Two MTHS students win national awards

Two Miami Trace High School students have received national recognition for the projects they presented to the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation.

In competition sponsored annually by the foundation, Keith Montgomery captured a fifth place regional award for his project in the agricultural division and Jim Eltzroth won a sixth place award for his project.

Written entries were competitively judged and awards made in three divisions, agricultural, mechanical and home recreational projects. Each is judged on its effective use of arc welding, ability and judgment shown in design and construction and the clarity and completeness of illustrations of the

There are four Grand National awards in each category and five place awards in each region.

Montgomery entered specifications for a three-way fork lift carrier and took a fifth place in the 17-state Region

The Region I competition included students from Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Washington D.C.

Eltzroth received the sixth award which is, in essence, honorable mention status for his project, a portable-

Pacers' sale imminent

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Sale of the financially troubled Indiana Pacers seemed imminent today as the general manager of the American Basketball Association franchise called a morning news conference to discuss "the present situation.

John D. Weissert, also president of Indiana Professional Sports Inc., which controls the Pacers, said earlier the team did not have enough money to finish the season and that a new owner was being sought.

Directors of Indiana Pro Sports met Thursday, and Weissert said at that time, "We will discuss two, maybe three offers to buy the team." He said he was sure the directors would accept one of the offers.

Weissert wouldn't reveal the names of the persons making the bids, but one interested group was headed by Tom Binford, former president of the U.S. Auto Club and presently chief steward at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Binford said Thursday, "I am interested in trying to work out something that will get them out of the present fix and get them onto sound ground. But I may not be the only one trying to do this.

The Pacers were put on the selling block after Indiana Pro Sports sold the Indianapolis Racers of the World Hockey Association to Paul Deneau, a Dayton, Ohio, architect.

NFL squads set for playoffs

By The Associated Press

The introductions in Oakland will go something like: "Ken Stabler, meet Mean Joe Green...J.T. Thomas, meet Fred Biletnikoff.'

In Bloomington, Minn., it'll be: "Fran Tarkenton and James Harris, meet Old Man Winter.

When Oakland and Pittsburgh meet for the National Football League's AFC title and Minnesota and Los Angeles meet for the NFC crown, none is likely to say, "Pleased to meet you."

Oakland quarterback Ken Stabler, who proved last week against Miami he can throw the football from almost any position, will be facing a Pittsburgh front line that led the NFL in quarterback sacks. Steeler defensive tackle Mean Joe Green will try to test Stabler's gymnastic ability.

At the same time, cornerback J.T. Thomas will have the unenviable job of keeping the football out of the sticky hands of Raider veteran wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff.

Minnesota's 14-year veteran quarterback, Fran Tarkenton, and the Rams' James Harris, untested in playoff action, both are practicing with teams that opted to avoid the frozen gridiron of Bloomington's Metropolitan Stadium until today.

NEW YORK (AP) - Buffalo's Bob McAdoo, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer and rebounder, and New York's Earl Monroe have moved into the forefront for starting berths on the Eastern Conference team in the league's 1975 All-Star game at Phoenix Jan. 14.

The 6-foot-10 McAdoo, whose 49 points against Cleveland on Dec. 19 are the most scored by any player in an NBA game this season, has passed Boston's Dave Cowens for the East's starting center position in the latest computerized fan balloting, announced today by Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Cowens, the East's starting center in last season's All-Star game, had led the voting since it began five weeks ago. Voting officially ended Dec. 25 and the starting lineups will be announced Jan.

Monroe moved ahead of Jo Jo White of Boston in the battle to join New York's Walt Frazier in the East's starting backcourt. Frazier remained the league's top vote-getter, although exact figures were not disclosed.

said there would be a lot of new faces in the next cabinet, but when it came down to actual appointments Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes relied on the old

The average age of the Rhodes cabinet is 53. The youngest member named thus far was Richard Jackson, 40, to be director of transportation.

The oldest will be Helen W. Evans, 69, new industrial relations director. 'Rhodes always promised us 'Golden

Age Village' and he's finally created one," quipped one Statehouse wag. "That law requiring automatic sprinkler systems for nursing homes should be amended to include the Statehouse," said another At a news conference a reporter asked Gov. John J. Gilligan, "Did you know any of the cabinet appointees?' With a broad smile, Gilligan nodded and said, "Being a student of history I knew them."

Whatever the quips, Rhodes decided to stick with those who had been tested. With the exception of Chan Cochran, an administrative assistant, the first appointments were all people who had served him before.

Ex-dictator of Thailand arrested on return home

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Ousted military dictator Thanom Kittikachorn slipped back into Thailand today and the government put him under house

Leaders of the politically powerful student movement demanded that the 65-year-old former field marshal be put on trial for the death of 72 civilians during the student-led uprising in October 1973 that overthrew his velopment, Rhodes selected his former military government and sent Thanom

> The students accused Thanom of ordering the military and police to shoot at the students, and they demanded the death penalty.

Thanom has been living in Boston, Mass., with his wife and some members of his family since the coup. He arrived in Bangkok before dawn aboard a Lufthansa plane.

Deputy Premier Prakorb Hutasing told newsmen that the government had decided at an emergency meeting to place Thanom under house arrest at an undisclosed location pending an investigation of the students' charges. He said Thanom was accompanied by his wife, who was not arrested.

Prakorb said Thanom sent him a message this morning saying that he was returning to visit his ailing 89-yearold father. Prakorb said the letter read: "When I left Thailand I had no time to say goodby to my father, and that was the reason I returned to Thailand today."

Thanom asked to visit his father last month, but tentative government approval of the trip touched off such an outcry that he was told his visit was not

Prakorb said the arrest and investigation had been delegated to the Defense Ministry because Thanom's alleged misdeeds were under the martial law by which he had ruled.

student government Bangkok's Thammasat University birthplace of the 1973 uprising that ended 26 years of military dictatorship - issued a statement calling Thanom the "No.1 criminal of Thailand."

"If the government claims there is not enough evidence to try Thanom, the student government proposes that the acts of killing people and evading taxes ... are enough evidence to arrest and try him," the statement said.

Thanom returned at a time that his successor as premier, Sanya

Thamassat, was out of Bangkok and the commander of the armed forces was in the Philippines on a tour of Southeast Asia.

1. Pass. East's spade bid relieves you of the obligation to respond to North's heart bid. By far the simplest way of telling partner you opened a minimum is by a pass. To bid a notrump at this stage would show 15 points rather than 13, while to bid two clubs would indicate a better suit and a better hand than you have.

2. Four hearts. You shouldn't be willing to play this hand under game, so you bid four hearts showing ten probable tricks even if partner has only 6 points. Three hearts would be altogether inadequate—it is not even a forcing bid.

3. Two hearts. This indicates a somewhat better than minimum opening bid. Admittedly, you'd like to have four

Mrs. G.E.W., N.J.

You are South, both sides trumps for the raise, but three is all they dealt you.

4. Double. With six probable defensive tricks in your hand, and a partner likely to contribute several more, the best contract appears to be one spade doubled played by East. Some of the biggest profits in bridge are collected from hands where the opponents bite off more than they can chew.

5. Three hearts. Game prospects are good, but not quite good enough to insure ten tricks. All you can properly do at this point is invite partner to undertake game by giving him a jump raise. If he passes, which he might do with a bad hand, he will probably have a struggle making even nine tricks. The raise to three hearts shows 17 to 19 points, part of which may consist of distributional values.

6. Three notrump. It would be wrong to bid only two notrump or three clubs at this stage, either of which North could pass with minimum strength for his heart bid. You should feel confident of making nine tricks in notrump and disregard those comparatively few hands North might have that would jeopardize the chance for game. Strong action is the order of the projects was in progress.

Orlett's firm, Global Wide World, has filed lawsuits totaling $789,000 against Cincinnati attorney Richard Weiland and Avon Builders Inc., contending the two have not done work on the housing projects for which they have been paid by Global Wide World.

There are also 12 suits pending against either Orlett or his firm, mainly concerning alleged defaults on
